Lecture List for Hilary Term 2023

This page was last updated on 10/11/2022 at 10:24 AM

Some courses of lectures are entered under more than one section or sub-section, if they are relevant to more than one course in the Preliminary Examination or the Final Honour School.

Undergraduates and graduates are recommended to read through all sections of the list and not to focus narrowly on those specifically designated for particular paper options. Students in Joint Schools are particularly referred to the lists for their other subject, but History undergraduates are also encouraged to browse them according to their particular interests.

Attendance

Many lectures cover courses for which students will be taking tutorials in the same term, but some lecture-courses will take place in a different term from the tutorials, whether later or earlier. Students are encouraged to ensure that they have identified lectures relevant to them. This may particularly apply to lectures for British and European and World History, but also in Trinity Term to a range of other courses. Students are also encouraged to attend any lectures that catch their interest, for their own sake or to guide them in future choices of courses or topics, including for their theses.

Timing of Lectures

Lectures begin on the first possible day after the beginning of Full Term (Sunday 16 January) and run in Weeks 1-8 of term unless otherwise stated. Events shown on this list are generally one hour long unless otherwise stated.

Key to Symbols

O = Open to any university member to attend at any time

A = Open to members of the university upon application; admission at the discretion of the convenor

X = (normally) restricted to members of the university taking the appropriate paper.

Lectures are listed in the following format:

Lecture title	Lecturer	Lecture date	Venue
---------------	----------	--------------	-------

General Lectures

Special Lectures

Applying various endowments given for the purpose, the University invites distinguished scholars to give series or individual special lectures, on topics current to their research or of general interest. Historians from professors to undergraduates attend these lectures, which are also open more widely, and students are strongly encouraged to take the opportunity to hear what are often the first fruits of new research, which will later become important articles and books.

Postgraduate Courses and Seminars

General Induction Meetings, Training Seminars and Language Classes

Training Seminars

Updated and additional training information may be found at <https://ohh.web.ox.ac.uk/training>.

Primarily concerned with the transmission of specific skills or knowledge to graduates in a structured format.

Except where individual weekly topics are identified on this list, regular attendance will be expected.

New and continuing students are also urged to attend appropriate WISER sessions: (Workshops in Information Skills and Electronic Resources) <https://www.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/ask/workshops#/>

Language Opportunities

The History Graduate Office offers some language classes in conjunction with the Language Centre (<http://www.lang.ox.ac.uk/>). Usually, new graduates sign up for these before the start of their course, but current graduates are also welcome to register their interest by contacting the Graduate Office.

Various levels of teaching are offered in this context (organised as demand justifies), from Academic Reading classes tailored to Historians (mainstream European languages), to standard Language Centre tuition in a wide range of languages, plus opportunities for self-study using the Language Centre's resources and library. History graduates can in some cases also participate in classes for Asian languages, organised by the Faculty of Asian and Middle Eastern Studies (<http://www.orinst.ox.ac.uk/>).

Attendance for Non-members of the University

Non-members of the University who are not otherwise exempted¹, may not attend university lectures (unless they are detailed under 'Special Lectures' or announced as open to the general public), except by prior agreement of the department or faculty concerned.

The department or faculty may charge a fee for attendance. The level of fee is a matter for departmental discretion. A lecturer may for personal reasons occasionally admit a person to his or her own lecture or lectures without a fee. The department or faculty may refuse the right of attendance to any person or category of person for whatever reason. They may at any time withdraw the right to attendance, and any lecturer may exclude a person from his or her lectures without reason given; in either case the department shall determine what proportion (if any) of any fee paid shall be refunded. Attendance at lectures given in any college building shall be subject to the right of the college concerned to refuse admission.

¹ The following non-members are exempted, i.e, they may attend university lectures advertised in lecture lists: students whose names are entered on the Register of Diploma students, or the Register of Recognised Students, or the Register of Visiting Students; and, when space permits, non-members of the University who are university or college employees.
